Upcoming

In November the Woodman will put out a call to action for its Annual Appeal. We have been fortunate to have solid support during our Centennial Season, and we hope you will work with us as we move into our Second Century. We have lots of plans for our future, both short-term and long. We are in the process of removing barriers across our four-building campus and grounds. Our Learning Lab initiative is underway, to allow us to accommodate all visitors to all of our exhibitions on each floor of our buildings by incorporating technology. While this has been a bellwether season, we have many more programs, exhibitions, and events to run, and an engaged and growing membership and donor base will carry us through to an even brighter future. Please be a part of it!

Special Thanks: Oh So Many!

Thank You Members

Members are the life blood of this, and any, museum. Without your support, and that of our donors and sponsors, we would have no new programs, no facility upkeep, no staff to serve our visitors. Since a membership structure was initiated at the Woodman Museum in the 1990s — one more reason to thank Thom Hindle! — your memberships have enabled us to maintain and even flourish, when we otherwise may have had serious concerns about continuing. Thank you for sustaining this rich resource through its first century! And thank you for looking to the future with us!

It's been a season of many events and programs, which could not have been done without the help of many volunteers. To begin with, the Woodman Museum Trustees and staff:

Trustees

David Dupont, Trustee Chair
Dennis Ciotti
Donna Ciotti
David Landry
Mark Leno
Anthony McManus
Grover Tasker
Thom Hindle, Museum Curator
Mike Day, Museum Educator

The Centennial Committee met monthly since August 2015 to put together our Centennial Season

Call for Volunteers

The Woodman Museum has a great stable of volunteers who fill a variety of needs. With the growth of the museum, we need a proportionate growth in those who can help us fulfill our various responsibilities to our audiences. If you like to learn, to teach, to serve the public through service (from giving tours, to monitoring the galleries, to staffing the gift shop), we may have a spot for you! Please contact the museum if you would like to give us a try!

One specific need we are looking to fill involves committee work. One growing committee that works behind the scenes is our Facilities Committee. Currently comprised of six members, we are looking to add more. With four historic houses, the newest of which was built in 1825, one can imagine that this is a highly functioning committee that reports to the Board of Trustees. Meaningful work with engaged participants in a directed function moves the Woodman forward. If this sounds like something you'd like to get involved with, please contact Wes LaFountain, Executive Director, at 970-0227 or director@woodmanmuseum.org.
