

An Important Update From the Woodman Museum 3-20-20

At the Woodman Museum, the well-being of our guests is always our priority.

Therefore, as of today our Board of Directors has voted to postpone our opening day until at least May 1, 2020. As everything is in flux, we will continue to monitor local, state, federal, and CDC guidelines, and abide by those. We will continue to update you in the coming weeks as to when it is safe for us to open the Museum.

In the meantime, beginning next week, we are going to present short videos, featuring our galleries, collections and historical stories to share with you from anywhere. These videos will be available on our Facebook page (Woodman Museum) and Instagram page (visitwoodmanmuseum) these new videos will be in addition to our daily history stories and historic photos, that we have been posting seven days a week for several months on Facebook. To enjoy those stories and photos daily, simply like our Facebook page.

In addition, we are creating a new youtube channel that will be available on our website www.woodmanmuseum.org in order to to present longer and more comprehensive videos featuring History, Art, Natural History, and more, within the next 2 weeks. So stay tuned.

Finally, as a non profit institution we need your support more than ever, in this difficult time. If you are able to make a tax deductible contribution as you enjoy this new digital content, we would be truly grateful.

If you are able, please mail a check to:
